Bonnie Schultz will be guiding Students of the Month this year. She will also be the contact person for Circle of Service.

Behind every great man there is a great woman 🍷

The soldier at the left swears that is a picture of him a few years back. He seems serious about it. If you haven't guessed, it is David Nelsen in his uniform.

Like many of us, we tried to avoid the draft. He joined the reserves. He was assigned 'Security' work. He seems to have made a very successful life after that. We all try to do our part in many different forms. I guess we all found out the huge number of support soldiers it takes to care for the troops. We are glad it was a good experience for Dave.

Students of the Month, October

Here we have Pres. Austin shaking hands with Ryan Engstler the Mayo student, son of Dave and Lori. His advisor says Ryan is an all round amazing kid who has an enormous amount of empathy and respect for others. Ryan is academically talented, but his personal beliefs and aspirations are what make him so. Ryan has been in cross country, track, equity club, and marching band. He belongs to the honor Society. In college he has strong interest in Urban Planning. Ryan also received an Honors Diploma.

ask difficult questions and inspire his classmates to contribute their thoughts. He has been active in football, Baseball, and Wrestling.

Eli plans to pursue wildlife conservation in wildlife biology. His goal is to get a job with the DNR. Nature is amazing to him and he enjoys learning about it, especially how animals interact with their environments. He is a member of the Nat. Honor Society. He won honorable mention in District Football. He was Scout Player of the Year in Football. Eli was Honorable Mention All Conference in Wrestling. He was Varsity most improved' in wrestling, also.

Kiwanis continues to honor those students that their teachers select who have outstanding personalities, learning abilities, and interaction with peers.

Here Del is presenting the honoring certificate to Eli Haight from Lourdes High School. He is son of Tom and Tamara. He was nominated by the English Department. One reason for his nomination was his ability to facilitate discussions in class. He is willing to
